UNIONISM IS DENOUNCED

D. M. PARRY HEARD FROM AGAIN

Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 13.—D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, to day in an address before the conference on "The Mob Spirit in America" said:

"In this country in the last year there have been many mobs of different kinds, but to my mind the most dangerous of them all is the mob of organized labor. No man, I take it, can object to any kind of association, labor or other, which is organized for lawful and benevolent purposes, but organized labor as it is conducted to day stands convicted by its own leaders as lawless organizations. In that it seeks by physical force to override individual rights and is continually railing against laws and denouncing courts and public officials for enforcing these laws, it fulfills all requirements of the definition of mobocracy. In its attempt to compel recognition of its pretensions to sovereignty it relies not on reason, but upon coercion, intimidation and the bludgeon. In its continual preachers against law and its constant appeals to the baser passions of men it is doing more than any other agency to inculcate the mob spirit and to encourage unfurling of the red flag of anarchy."

KIDD REPLIES TO PARRY.

Thomas Kidd, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, discussed "the labor unions and mob spirit" in answer to Parry. One of the explanations of riots by Kidd was that minds of workingmen had been embittered by conditions of their childhood and their experiences in later life with company stores and later evidence of greed and power arrayed against them have made them more desperate. He declared statistics show that in seven years less than one per cent of 25,000 strikes were attended by riots. Organizer labor, he said, was not responsible for the employment of private police during the anthracite coal strike, for whitecapping of miners in Colorado, nor for riots in Danville and Evansville. He contended the lawlessness of the few should not obscure the good citizenship of the majority of trade unionists.

MOUNT VESUVIUS

Rome, Aug. 13.—Vesuvius is again causing intense alarm in the surrounding region, eruptions of the volcano being very heavy to day. Detonations are very loud and almost continuous, while from a fresh opening at the base of the principal crater two streams of lava are issuing which within a few hours covered a wide tract of ground. One stream is going swiftly toward the village of Ottaviano, the direction taken by the famous eruption in 1872. The whole district around the volcano is shaken by frequent earth shocks and a panic prevails, the population crowding churches to pray or gathering in open spaces for safety. Experts, however, affirm that so far there is no reason to fear a serious disaster.

ORDERED RETIRED.

Washington, Aug. 13.—By order of the president Col. Robert L. Meeds of the United States marine corps will be retired Oct. 3 in his present grade. Because of a disrespectful letter which Colonel Meeds recently addressed to the navy department the president took advantage of the law which provided that when an officer in the army or marine corps shall have reached the age of 62 he may be retired on his own request or by order of the president. Colonel Meeds recently requested that he be retired at an advanced grade. The law does not permit officers of the marine corps to be retired with advanced grade, but the president approved Meeds's application for retirement. Displeased that both his requests had not been granted, it is understood, Meeds addressed another letter to the department requesting that his application be withdrawn and charging among other things that conditions for his retirement had been ignored. The acting secretary recommended Meeds be allowed to withdraw his application for retirement and that he be retired in accordance with the law on his sixty-second birthday. President Roosevelt promptly approved the recommendations and the necessary order has been issued.

INDIA MORE PROSPEROUS.

London, Aug. 13.—Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, in opening the annual statement of the Indian budget in the house of commons to day read an encouraging story of progress and stability of India's finances. He pointed out that there had been substantial surpluses in the last three years amounting this year to $15,125,000. He says fears regarding the scarcity of food in India this year might be dismissed.

HAD A LONG CONFERENCE

No Definite Conclusion Reached as to Shape of Proposed Legislation—Extra Session of Congress Assured.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt's conference with members of the subcommittee of the senate finance committee was not concluded until the small hour this morning. The whole subject of financial legislation at the approaching session of congress was discussed thoroughly. No definite conclusions as to the shape of proposed legislation were reached. One fact of distinct importance developed. While an extraordinary session of congress next fall is assured, it has not been determined definitely whether it will be called to meet in October or November. The primary purpose of the extraordinary session will be to enact legislation making operative the Cuban reciprocity treaty, but financial legislation also will be presented upon the attention of congress soon after it convenes. It can be said the senate finance committee will draft no measure formally and conclusively until consultations have been held with other members of the senate and house and with the best authorities on finance in the country.

The union continued discussion of amendments to the general laws today but no radical changes were made. The Philadelphia situation was considered. At length it developed that a majority of printers there are non-union. The executive council was authorized to expend whatever it deems necessary to unionize Philadelphia.

The committee on the proposed monument to the late Amos Cummings reported in favor of erecting one of Colorado granite at the printers' home at Colorado Springs. No action was taken.

The woman's auxiliary devoted the day to discussion of various trade topics.

CONDITION OF POPE PIUS.

Rome, Aug. 13.—The pope was quite well to day. He took a long drive and walk in the vatican garden and then received the Austrian ambassador.

Monsignor Cagiano, major domo, accompanied by Cardinals Rampolla and Molino, opened the apartment of Pope Leo this morning, breaking the seals put on at the time of the pontiff's death. They found a considerable amount of money, several million francs, besides other valuables.

The pope was photographed to day in the gardens. He afterward received Cardinal Sartori, who inquired regarding the appointment of a new secretary of state in succession to Rampolla and again suggested Vannutelli as best fitted for the position. To the suggestion of Sartori the pope appointed Father Edward Fowler, secretary of Rev. J. J. Hart, domestic prelate to the pontiff, which post carries with it the title of monsignor.

Gibbons will come to Rome Friday to assist in the consecration Saturday of Rev. Hart as archbishop of Manila. Sunday the pope will receive the new archbishop and Father Fowler in private audience. The pope this afternoon received the ministers of Peru, Uruguay and Argentina, who presented their credentials and greetings from their governments on the occasion of his election.

DAMAGED BATTLESHIP.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 13.—Late this afternoon divers who had been examining the United States battleship Massachusetts, which had her forward plates cracked while leaving the harbor yesterday, found she was more seriously damaged than at first thought to be the case, as the ship was settling as well as forward. The ship will be moved into more shallow water, so that if anything gives way she will not sink deep enough to cause excessive damage. Divers were unable to locate any crack in the after part of the ship. In the forward part divers found two compartments full of water and several other compartments more or less damaged. The Massachusetts will be docked at the Brooklyn navy yard.

TEARING UP TRACKS.

Bloomington, Aug. 13.—The Chicago & Alton railroad, which controls the Quincy, Carrollton & Western, has begun to tear up tracks west of Carrollton because the line has been unprofitable. A number of industries along the abandoned track have been purchased by the Chicago & Alton company in order to exempt the owners from loss. Citizens of Eldred and Carrollton have secured a temporary injunction to prevent further removal of tracks. Road Master Sweeney was arrested to day for ignoring the injunction and he finally agreed to respect the court's order.

Charles E. Miller of the Erie system has been appointed superintendent of motive power of the Alton.

WENT THROUGH A BRIDGE.

Topeka, Aug. 13.—The engine, mail car and baggage car of the Texas express on the Rock Island went through a bridge across Henricks creek, near Alma, early this morning, killing Fireman John Leggett, of McFarland, Kan., and severely injuring Engineer John McNeese of Kansas City. That fearful loss of life did not follow to the bursting of the stream where the disaster occurred. A cloudburst had filled the creek and weakened the bridge.

SUCCESSION TO CORBY.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 13.—The board of directors of the Carnegie Steel Company to day accepted the resignation of W. E. Corby, and announced that W. E. Corby would succeed Mr. Andrew Carnegie as chairman of the board of directors.

THE CANAL TREATY

Washington, Aug. 13.—Senator Cullom, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, had an extended conference to day with Acting Secretary of State Loomis and the Panama canal situation was thoroughly discussed. Cullom, having had charge of the treaty while it was pending before the United States senate, is in a position to know what difficulties are in the way of ratifying an amended treaty should the Colombian congress take that action and expressed the opinion success of the measure was far from encouraging.

Herran, chargé of the Colombian legation here, and who negotiated the canal treaty, was at the state department to confer with Loomis regarding recent reports from the Colombian capital.

DANVILLE LYNCHING.

Danville, Aug. 13.—The Vermilion county grand jury adjourned this afternoon. About twenty-five men were indicted for the recent attack on the jail. The leader of the mob, Winfield Baker, who came here from Kentucky a few weeks since, was indicted separately for assault with intent to commit murder.

After the dead negro, Metcalfe, was hung Baker mounted a street car and attracted attention by firing a revolver. He ordered the mob to follow him to the jail. When Sheriff Whitlock was standing on the jail veranda counseling peace Baker fired two shots at him.

Two others are indicted jointly under three charges—defacing a public building, rioting and attempting to enter a building with intent to commit murder. All three of the charges are felonies and State's Attorney Keeslar hopes to send the entire bunch to Chester.

The names of the indicted as far as given out are John Walton, Edward Hart, Winfield Baker, Clay Biddle, Adam Murray, William Redwine, Isaac Slade, John Robertson, Thomas Bell, Francis and Cleo Davis, William Pettes, Clements, Mabaker, Johnison, Harry Remick, Charles Devon, John Kress, Horace Murphy, Harry Van Gundy and Beadle Armstrong.

Excepting Van Gundy, who is an electrician, the men are all laborers or miners. They will be arraigned before Judge Thompson Saturday morning. Over 300 witnesses were examined, including the police and fire department, but no names were secured of the rioters who broke into the city building and lynched the negro. The indictments against those assaulting the jail were obtained through the evidence of Sheriff Whitlock and his deputies. State's Attorney Keeslar will vigorously prosecute them.

SEES CASE IS SERIOUS.

Springfield Register: George G. Huffaker, the wayward lad who was arrested two days ago on charge of forgery, remains a prisoner in the county jail and his relatives thus far have failed to come to his assistance. He was taken before Justice Brinkerhoff yesterday afternoon and his bond was fixed at $60, but no one would sign it and he was returned to jail.

Huffaker is a son of George G. Huffaker a prominent farmer and stock raiser of New Berlin. It is said that he wished to see the swift side of life and for some time has been in fast company.

The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by J. A. Easley, of the First National bank, who alleges that he forged his father's name to a check for $40. It was pointed out that if congress were convened at an early date entire work of the extraordinary and regular sessions could be cleared by the time the national conventions are to be held next year. On many accounts that is regarded as desirable and it would be a great convenience not only to the president but also members of both the senate and house.

NEIL WHIPS FORBES.

Frankie Neil, of San Francisco, won the bantam weight championship of the world to night when he landed a left swing in the pit of Harry Forbes' stomach in the second round of a scheduled twenty-round fight. In the first round no effective blows were landed. Forbes appeared in splendid condition, but could not land effectively.

When they came up for the second round Neil lashed out with his left and landed a terrific punch on Forbes' stomach. The eastern champion doubled up like a jackknife and fell over backward. He lay in a corner of the ring gasping for breath, but managed to get up before ten seconds were counted. Neil went after his man again and rained a shower of blows on the almost defenseless form. Another punch in the stomach sent Forbes down again and Referee Graney counted him out.

Neil evidently did not hear the end of the count, for as Forbes struggled to his feet Neil landed another left on the jaw and sent his man under the ropes. There was a vigorous cry of foul from the Forbes people, but as their man had already been counted out it was of no avail.

SHERIFF GRANAY COUNTS OUT FORBES.

Washington, Aug. 13.—No dispatches were received to day by the state department concerning firing upon a fishing vessel by a Canadian revenue cutter on Lake Erie. Several officers of the department upon reading the press dispatches of the occurrence searched for precedents in such cases and found none. The fact that no telegraphic advices have been received leads to belief in the department that the case is not of such serious consequence as to make it an international complication.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Rifle competition of the department of lakes and Dakota at Fort Sheridan to day consisted of skirmish firing at 200, 300, 350, 400, 500 and 600 yards. The highest scores: Sergeant Hawkins, 5th infantry, 428; Corporal Coles, 24th, 357; Private Weick, 20th, 306; Private Swagerty, 24th, 352; Sergeant Aperian, 24th, 32.

LORD SALISBURY ILL.

London, Aug. 13.—Lord Salisbury is seriously indisposed at the Hatfield house. He is greatly exhausted and physicians are in attendance.

It was stated to night there is no immediate danger, although it is admitted the condition of Salisbury is critical. He has not been well for months and at present exhaustion is pronounced.

GENERAL FITZ SIMONS ILL.

IRISH LAND BILL.

London, Aug. 13.—The house of lords to day agreed to the Irish land bill in the form finally approved by the house of commons. The measure now only awaits royal assent to become a law.

BULGARIAN REBELLION.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 13.—It is reported Bulgarian insurgents have murdered the inhabitants of the large Turkish village of Konati, near Monastir. Only twenty escaped. Four thousand troops are marching toward Konati, which is in the hands of insurgents. Major General Dimitriev and Gen. Radev directed the military operations.

ALMIRANTE CERVERA RESIGNS.

Mexico, Aug. 13.—Almirante Cervera, who surrendered to the American fleet off Santiago, has resigned the position of chief of staff in the navy, a week before his trial, which is to be held in December.

BATON MINT HANGS.

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 13.—C. C. Covington, mint director, was shot and killed yesterday evening while driving home from the mint.

He was succeeded by James C. Nichols, who was elected chairman of the board of directors.

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE

JEFFRIES AND CORBETT TO FIGHT TO NIGHT.

Both fighters are confident of victory—Great interest taken in the contest—Jeffries wins the bantam weight championship

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—Never in this city has more interest been taken in a pugilistic encounter than is now manifested regarding tomorrow's contest between Jeffries and Corbett. Betting is comparatively light at 2 to 1 in the champion's favor. Jeffries is at the Reliance club, Oakland, where he will remain until a few hours before the fight. He never looked more fit in his life. His muscles stand out hard and firm over his massive frame and his skin is of that ruddy hue that bespeaks the best type of physical fitness. Trainer Delaney says Jeffries "is as fast as he can be, his wind is perfect, his condition the finest it was ever to me. If the betting were 100 to 1 in favor of Jeffries it would make no difference. I have been doing everything possible to get him into condition for this fight and now that I have about finished my work I am satisfied. I am fit to make the fight of my life to morrow night and if I don't win I never could or never would win against the man. Win or lose, I will say now—I like the job I am about to go up against and will do my best to come out victor."

Corbett said to day: "I would be willing to lose one of my arms if I can defeat Jeffries." He added: "I know Jeffries is a big, rough fellow, but nothing can discourage me. If the betting were 100 to 1 in favor of Jeffries it would make no difference. I have been doing everything possible to get him into condition for this fight and now that I have about finished my work I am satisfied. I am fit to make the fight of my life to morrow night and if I don't win I never could or never would win against the man. Win or lose, I will say now—I like the job I am about to go up against and will do my best to come out victor."

SOFA, BULGARIA, Aug. 13.—Macedonian leaders express themselves greatly disappointed with what they assert is the timid hostile attitude of America toward their cause as manifested in utterances of the press. Dr. Christo Taratarchoff, one of the presidents of the central internal Macedonian committee, to day told a representative of the Associated Press that his party was convinced American newspapers had been bought with Turkish gold. Concerning the present situation Taratarchoff declared that only real, practical intervention by the powers can stop the fighting.

New York Man Had Many Ups and Downs—Career a Checkered One.

New York, Aug. 13.—Edward L. Dwyer to day filed a petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities are $374,665; assets, $12. Most of the liabilities are secured. At the age of 25 Dwyer went to Mexico and realized a million in land and railroad investment. He then engaged in wheat speculation in Chicago, making several millions but finally lost all. In 1885 he married the Duchess de Casteluche, New York woman who many years previously had married an Italian count. She died soon after, leaving a nestate of $3,000,000, but beque

Order.

It now appears that Lieutenant-Governor Northcott's new position with the Modern Woodmen is only temporary. It is now known that he has been offered a position at the head of the society, but that he has not accepted it. He is now in his 60th year, and his services were terminated. He is to receive pay at the rate of $4,000 per year, but may not be employed that length of time. T. O. Gilder, editor of the Modern Woodmen, the official organ of that organization, in a letter to C. C. Hanner, at Bloomington, says:

"Your letter of Aug. 1 is at hand and contents noted. I am very sorry indeed if the conditions are as bad as you picture them. The board of directors I believe felt it a critical time in the history of the society, as they believed the services of so able a counsel as our past head consul should be retained. We have in his hands the revision of the ritual, and there has been a desire that a history of the society should be written. Then, too, there are almost daily calls coming in for him to respond to addresses, and the board of directors believe that it would be advisable to secure his services for a short time he would be at liberty at a fixed compensation. I suppose that you understand that our present head consul will not be able to give permanently his time to our society, and that the arrangement made is only temporary, but that the compensation would be at the rate of $4,000 a year."

One of the leading members of the Modern Woodmen thinks that the criticism that have been heard concerning the appointment of Lieutenant-Governor Northcott and the former head consul of the order, as past head consul, and retaining his services at a salary of $4,000 per annum, was one ill advised and the action on the contrary one of the wisest ever made by the order. He says that the head executive council made a mistake in not seeing that the salary was fixed by the head camp at Indianapolis when the appointment of past head consul was made. The latter consideration of engaging Mr. Northcott as lecturer and to write a history of the order, tended to arouse criticism through a conception that it was underhanded and an effort was made to conceal the proceeding from the members. He says that if the salary had been fixed at $5,000 at the Indianapolis gathering, there would have been no opposition, and he believes yet that when the matter is looked upon in the right light that there will be a revision of sentiment in the order.

In his defense of the executive council the member referred to said that when Northcott came to the Woodmen there were 32,000 members, and it was on a very uncertain foundation with the probability of early collapse. Northcott introduced new methods and ideas and had the satisfaction of retiring from the order at Indianapolis as head consul with a membership of over 700,000. He thinks that Northcott, more than any other man deserves the credit for the marked increase. The ideas of Northcott in securing deputies to boom the order proved so successful that every similar order in the country is imitating it and many other ideas are also being copied.

It is declared that Northcott is one of the best posted fraternal insurance men in the United States and that his name alone is worth the salary paid to him. Northcott is so well known and his ability as a fraternal insurance expert so great that to keep him with the order is worth many times the sum paid to him.

Not many members of the order realize what a tremendous institution it is. Since its organization the sum of $5,000,000 has been paid out in death claims alone, and every day of its existence is paying out $5,000 for this purpose.

Carrying a billion dollars of insurance at the present time, and when the membership reaches the million mark, as I confidently expect by the leaders, the enormous sum will be increased one-third.

The statement that Alice Roosevelt attended 400 dinners in a year, which according to the calendar is 365 days, indicates that she is not only a mighty busy young lady, but that she has a mighty capacity for enjoyment.

Ex-Senator Mason's three daughters have set an example to young women of ambition and means by purchasing 10 acres of land each in Kansas for the purpose of stocking the farms with high grade cattle and horses.

In New Mexico there are women who could climb to the top of a Chicago skyscraper without complaining. A Zuni woman has to carry water up hundreds of feet from springs at the base of the mesas to their homes on the top.

The first needle used in England was made in Queen Mary's reign by a negro who unfortunately died before imparting the secret to anyone. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth the art of needle making was rediscovered by a German, who imparted it to an Englishman.

Every woman should think and act for herself and express her real opinions. Individuality, when combined with tact and good manners, is always attractive. A woman's happy hearty laugh is better than medicine, and her cheery presence is as welcome as the sunshine in the sick room and is as fruitful of good.

The postoffice department failed by $4,617,203 of meeting its expenses in the year ending June 30. The deficit for 1902 was $2,961,170. The increase during the past year being attributed to the extension of the rural delivery service.

The labor movement in Canada has taken phenomenal strides during the past three or four years. Previous to 1900 there were few unions in the Dominion and it is doubtful if the total membership would foot up 5,000 at that time. To day Canadas can boast 1,100 unions and the membership will aggregate 100,000.

Larger engines! That is the cry among the railroads, and some of the results are astonishing. The Baldwin Locomotive company has just delivered two new passenger engines to the Chicago & Alton that make new Atlantic type engines, that looked as big as mountains a year ago, appear like one-horse steamers.

A report on the railroads of the United States for the fiscal year closing June 30, shows that the total number of passengers carried was 649,878,505; of freight, 111,089,347 tons. The gross earnings of all the roads for a year was $1,726,380,267, and the expenses were $1,116,248,747. The total dividends declared during the year were $185,421,239.

The convenience which the public recognizes in the stamp books sold by the postoffice department has bought in nearly $200,000 clear profit in the first three years that they have been in use. The department pays one-third of a cent for the books and they sell for a cent. In the past year the sales have increased 38 per cent over those of the previous year.

A government secret service man whose business is with counterfeiters, spoils the story that half the silver dollars are made outside the governments mints, and, being of the same weight and fineness of legitimate coin, cannot be detected—the silver in a dollar costing but 50 cents, making a nice margin for the maker of "queer" coins.

TO TEST FEE LAW.

Springfield, Aug. 13.—A suit to test the right of the secretary of state to assess fees against corporations which desire to consolidate was filed in the Sangamon circuit court to day. The complaining company is the Alton Light and Traction company of Alton. Secretary of State James A. Rose is the defendant. The suit was filed by Attorney Baker, of Alton. It is alleged that some time ago the Alton Light company and the Alton Traction company consolidated and wished to file notice of the same with the secretary of state. The regular fee of $1,045 was charged, which would have been the same if the corporations were new ones. The attorneys for the company hold that under the laws of the state a nominal fee should have been charged, as the companies had before been incorporated under the laws of Illinois and should have been treated as old concerns. The complaining company seeks to recover $1,500 damages from the secretary of state, which includes the excess alleged to have been charged, and also to cover expenses incurred in the proceeding. The case will serve as a test for similar difficulties which have been brought to light.

ILLINOIS HOLINESS ASSOCIATION

The Illinois Holiness association is now holding its seventh annual camp at the state fair grounds. The association was organized in 1872. It was not large at first, but as the interest grew, it became of sufficient importance to be incorporated. Its charter was secured in 1877, five years after its formation. At the same time that the association was established it began the publishing of a paper and this was continued for some time. The paper was "The Banner of Holiness" and it was at first published in Bloomington, beginning in 1872. Then it was published here in Jacksonville and later the publication was merged into "The Highway." It is now owned by "The Christian Witness," which has no connection with the association.

The doctrine of the association is a belief "in conversion by faith, and holiness as a second work of grace." Rev. L. B. Kent, president of the association, explains the object of the organization as follows:

"This association is strictly religious organization and works along the definite line of holiness. We have no church. Our members are all members of some church—Methodist, Baptist, and so forth. The association is undenominational and evangelical. We sell books, hold meetings, distribute papers and religious matter. We expect to continue holding meetings here on succeeding years, that is, provided we can get the grounds and everything remains satisfactory. This is the headquarters of the association."

When the association was first formed the business was transacted by the members as a body. Now, however, a board of directors is elected and all the business is done by them, they merely reporting to the meeting the results of their work. It is probable that this is the last year the association will remain an independent organization.

FISHING FOR OLD CORK.

Cork is never useless until it is absolutely decayed. Children who fish for cork all day between the piers on the New York river fronts do not have to go above Fulton street to sell it. Some boys and girls find cork fishing more profitable than selling newspapers. Cork can be made over about as many times as rag and waste paper. Before the children who take cork from the rivers can sell it they must carry it home and dry it. Wet cork is not negotiable. There is no fixed price for waste cork. The foreman of a shop looks over a basketful and says what he will give for it. The children invariably take what is offered them. As manufactured cork is durable, while cork wood is on the free list, most of the corks used in New York are manufactured here. The cork tree will not grow in North America. The wood must be imported from Mediterranean countries. Portugal is the principal source of supply. Large quantities come from Italy and Sardinia—New York Times.

CENTRAL PARK

The following is a copy of the original deed made by the county commissioners of Morgan county in their official capacity, whereby the land now designated as Central park passed from the hands of the county into the hands of the city of Jacksonville, subject to the conditions which appear below:

Knew all men, to whom those present shall come that the undersigned county commissioners of the county of Morgan and state of Illinois have this day transferred and conveyed to James B. Corrington, president, and to James Parkerson, John Henry, McHenry Johnston and Murray McOrnel, trustees of the town of Jacksonville, and their successors in office forever for the use of the inhabitants of said town the northwest quarter of the piece of land commonly called the public square in said town, which tract of land is bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning fifty feet south of the southeast corner of lot number 61, in said town; from thence west 160 feet; from thence south 130 feet; from thence east 160 feet; from thence north to the place of beginning and the said county commissioners for the county of Morgan in its corporate capacity do they hereby contract covenant and agree to and with said trustees and their successors in office for the inhabitants of the town of Jacksonville in their corporate capacity that the tract of land aforesaid shall forever belong to them as such trustees and inhabitants for the use of erecting a market house thereon and for no other purpose whatever and that they shall continue to enjoy and possess said land so long as it may continue to be used as a market house square, with full power to take immediate possession thereof and build said house themselves or to contract with any other person so to do in any manner and on any terms or conditions they may think best, with full privilege of erecting any other buildings and rooms they may think proper over said market house and to put said other buildings or rooms to any use they may think proper, either by themselves or by the persons with whom they may contract. They further agree with said trustees for the inhabitants of said town forever that the land on the north and west sides of said tract to the fronts of the lots shall always be and remain open and continue forever to be public streets in the same manner as any other streets of said town and that they will never close up or interfere with the same in any manner whatever.

But nevertheless this deed is upon their expressed conditions in relation to the market house that the same shall be commenced by the said trustees, or the persons with whom they may contract by the first day of July next and to complete the same in a reasonable time and in the event that the corporation of the town of Jacksonville should be dissolved and said inhabitants of Jacksonville should not exist in a corporate capacity then the said market house shall go immediately into the possession of the county commissioners' court and they shall immediately appoint some responsible person to take care of said house, rent out the streets, superintend the market, and receive the rents and profits thereof as their agents, and all the revenue arising from said house shall be paid out in repairing the streets and public highways and in within one mile from the center of said town, but as soon as said town shall become again incorporated by any means whatever the said house shall be under the contract of the corporation thereof. In testimony whereof said county commissioners have hereunto set their hands and seals this 27th day of September, A. D. 1831.

Witnesses—John G. Hardin, Dennis Rockwell.

Seal—William Woods, William Gilliam, James Green.

TROUBLE WITH CABLE.
The work of laying the new cable across the Mississippi river at Hannibal by the Pike County Telephone company to connect their lines with those of the Bluff City Telephone company has been attended with no little difficulty, the trouble being chiefly due to mistakes made by the civil engineer in measuring the distance to determine the amount of wire required. The measurements were several hundred feet short of the needed amount. When this difficulty was finally overcome, and the cable laid, it was found that the circuit was broken and no connection could be made. An expert came from Chicago recently in response to a telegram, and is now trying to make the proper repairs. The cable was laid by the steamer Hennepin, assisted by a government barge.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Muscatine, Iowa, Aug. 13.—Bert Sheppard, 22, son of a wealthy coal operator, is under arrest here, charged with murder. Arthur Meade, of West Liberty, was shot and killed in a restaurant on May 14. A reward of $500 was first offered by Governor Cummins and later increased to $1,000. It is said Sheppard entered the restaurant where seven students were enjoying a midnight lunch and ordered "all hands up," Meade said, "you can't fool me," and tried to pull the mask from the man's face. The man fired and Meade dropped dead. The robbers took $27 from the cash drawer and fled. Sheppard protests his innocence.

TO DAIRY ORGANIZATION
Board of Directors Please Note
Approve of Home Finding Association.

Springfield, Aug. 11.—The American Home Finding association, of which Rev. George Hoover, of Chicago, is the president, has been condemned by Frank D. Whipp, of this city, who was sent to investigate the association for the state board of charities. The association is an applicant before the state board for a certificate certifying that it is competent to receive and care for children committed to it by the courts. Mr. Whipp is severe on the institution, its objects and management and its deceptions of the public and the state board. The application of the association for the certificate will without doubt be denied when the board meets again.

This action will be based upon the report of the personal investigation of the home and its financial and moral condition by Mr. Whipp, who has just submitted to the board his report, in which he recommends that the desired certificate be denied.

Mr. Whipp finds the financial condition of the association to be bad and deceptive and its moral tone not what it should be. "Trafficking in babies," is what he terms its business and says it should not be practiced.

Mr. Whipp in his report says that the books on their face appear to be accurately kept, but they do not show the actual condition financially. There is an outstanding indebtedness of $3,176 which does not appear on the books, but is kept in a small private memorandum and the superintendent explained that it was thought best not to let the public know of this, especially, as all the directors knew it. The debt is for wages unpaid, loans and various accounts of long standing. All statements for the public and the state board do not show this debt. The association, in fact, says the report, is insolvent. From information secured at the association's offices the statement made to the state board to substantiate its request for a certificate is incorrect.

Now is the statement printed in the January, 1903, number of the association's paper, "Our Home and Homeless," correct.

From April 1, 1902, to Aug. 1, 1903, the collections amounted to $10,812; the expenses, agent's salary and commission amounted to $8,488. The agents soliciting money receive 50 per cent as commissions, which Mr. Whipp says it too high. The cost of maintaining homes for the children during that time was $2,299.

The visitor also found that there had existed an agreement between Rev. Mr. Hoover and the association whereby he was to get half the profits from the journal, "Our Home and Homeless," but that later this was changed to $10 per month in lieu of other profits and that he drew about $300 from this source, but lately has been getting nothing. This paper was used as a coaker for subscriptions. The report shows that many of the children committed to the home are illegitimate and are entrusted to its care when very young. The result is that they soon die. This is characterized as trafficking in babies. Mr. Whipp doubts whether the placement of children is properly looked after by the Chicago office. He cites an instance where five infants were sent to the Mennonite orphanage at New Lisbon, Ohio, with the expectation that the consignees would place them in proper homes. Three of them soon died. In conclusion Mr. Whipp says that the board of directors contains many estimable and prominent men who would not hesitate to resign if they were aware of the nature of the business that is carried on.

"In view of the fact," says Mr. Whipp, "that the officers of the association have published statements misrepresenting the financial condition to the public and your office, which statements must have been used in soliciting funds and taking into consideration the methods of administration and management, your investigator is not satisfied that it is competent to receive children committed to its care by the courts. It is, therefore, recommended that the certificate be denied."

AT EBENEZER

The threatening weather Thursday afternoon and evening was anything but favorable for the Ebenezer chicken fry, yet the occasion proved one of the most successful ever given by the Ladies' Aid society of Ebenezer church and a large sum was raised for the society treasury.

Supper was served from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock in the evening. Lemonade, ice cream and cake was also on sale and all departments received a most liberal patronage.

The grounds never looked prettier and were well lighted. The affair had been thoughtfully planned and was carried into successful execution by the competent ladies in charge, who ably sustained their reputation of previous years.

The menu was an excellent one and all were generously served. The tables attracted a great deal of attention and were handsomely decorated.

Mrs. T. B. Fozard, president of the society and Mr. Charles Patterson, chairman of the managing committee, are entitled to great credit for the splendid manner in which the affair was managed, while all of the ladies of the society and the people of the neighborhood are deserving of praise for their hearty co-operation and generous assistance rendered.

NOVEL EGG LAYING RACE

American Hens Reported Leading In Australian Contest.

THE TEST ARRANGED FOR A YEAR

Picked Fowls to the Number of Four Hundred and Twenty Eight For Honors Upon the Grounds of the Hawkesbury Agricultural College. Fifty Breeds Are Represented.

Whoop! er up, for the great little American hen. She's racing down here in Australia, eighteen of her, against 402 Australian hens in the international, interstate, world's first egg laying competition, and she's been ahead from the first, and at last accounts she was still leading. But the race is on for a year, a whole year, and, of course, since the race is not always to the swift, the great little American hen may continue the fight as she may be bested by next April, when the race will end, says the Sydney correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing under date of July 6.

For some time previous to April, 1902, two New South Welshmen, A. E. Henry of Hyde and H. E. Kelly of Campbelltown, had been hotly debating with each other in the columns of one of the Sydney newspapers the respective merits of Silver Wyandottes and Buff Orpingtons. Poultry breeders and poultry journal readers in many other parts of New South Wales joined in the wordy fray, and finally Henry challenged Kelly to an egg laying contest, each with his favorite fowl.

Out of this proposition grew an open competition, backed by a newspaper which donated the sum of $105 as prize money. John Kidd, the minister of mines and agriculture, was waited upon, and he granted permission that the race be held upon the grounds of the Hawkesbury Agricultural college, one of the best institutions of its kind in the world.

These are the conditions determined upon for the competition: The pens for the competing fowls were to be 57 by 17 feet, constructed of iron bark posts and six foot wire netting. The houses, each divided to answer as two pens, were to be 11 by 6 feet, 6 feet high in front and 4½ feet at the back. The fronts were to be open, wire netting with a northemsterly aspect.

The competition was to begin April 1. The competitors were bound to pen their birds during March, each pen to consist of six pullets or hens of any age, no male bird to be excluded. All birds were to be bred by the competitor. All birds were to be examined by the poultry expert of the college, D. S. Thompson, upon their arrival at the college. If a bird died during the competition it was to be replaced.

The competition was to be decided by the greatest total number of eggs laid by the birds in each pen, eggs under one and one-half ounces were not to count. The market value of the eggs laid was to be recorded; also the weight of eggs from each pen; also the total quantities of the various foods consumed by the competing birds; also the cost of maintaining the birds per head, and finally the prizes were to be awarded according to the aggregate weight of eggs, pen against pen.

The American competitors in this great race are: W. B. Candee, Fayetteville, N. Y.; White Wyandottes, Mrs. A. H. Hansell, Louisville, Neb.; Brown Leghorns, and W. K. Hay, Henleyville, Cal.; White Wyandottes. The birds arrived in Sydney on March 14 last, in a sad plight. They had had a rough passage indeed, but had survived and were thirsting for a chance to distinguish themselves, their breeders and their country. Mr. Thompson tenderly took them in hand and ere long they began to lay at a furious rate. The year long race began on April 1, and those modest Nebraska Brown Leghorns bore Old Glory to the front in the egg line on the first day and have done it every day since.

Expert Thompson, in response to questions regarding the competition, said:

"Fifty breeds are represented. The students at the college eat the eggs. The fowls are all doing splendidly, and the number of eggs from the competition is 180 per day. The American Brown Leghorns are ahead just now, and they have been from the first. The last time I took the numbers they were ahead of the best Australians by five eggs. The best Australians are Silver-Laced Wyandottes, owned by G. Howell of Wentworthville, N. S. W. I was disappointed that there were two sets of White Wyandottes in the American set. I wanted the selection to be three different breeds, so we could have an even better idea of what the Americans can do. The students at the college take a great interest in the competition, and they do all the work—the manual work—connected with it, under charge of a poultry man."

Mr. Thompson is deeply interested in this competition, for he holds the view which it seems, is controverted by the large majority of poultry breeders, that by means of these competitive breeds, of fowls can eventually be scientifically classified as egg producers, and thus those who do commerce in poultry and eggs can definitely know which is the best bird for the table, which the best for laying and which the best for general utility.

Mr. Thompson, like a good American, thinks the Aussies are nuts, and will in this laying race, but he isn't laying any wagers. And when even if they do, there is to be a simple little competition of the same sort next year, and the number of American pens is to be increased.

The Royal Innkeepers, however, are to wear a gray plume in the bushes in recognition of the brilliant service of the First Battalion in the Boer war.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

TRY to imagine a dinner-table arrangement in a restaurant's dinner-table decorations in the form of the table, center. Their outlines, instead of being straight, are now cut in sharp curves and edged with soft frills so full that they stand upright in the curves and will gracefully round the veins or candleabra that are placed in the spaces formed by the curves.

Embroidered centers are much to the fore, the favorites being those wrought in ribbon. Have you tried any of this dainty work? It is quite easy for any one with but a slight knowledge of fancy work to teach themselves and it possesses a great advantage over other needlework in that it is so quickly done and far more effective than ordinary embroidery.

A very dainty slip was composed of a long and narrow strip of white muslin. The edges were curved in serpentine form and the muslin worked with clusters of yellow marguerites tied with shaded blue bows; it was a simple yet charming pattern. The marguerites were formed of the wide ribbon in the palest shade of yellow. One stitch suffices in this wide ribbon for each flower petal; and the center of the blossoms was filled with French knots in filo-selle of a deer tone. The marguerite leaves were simply outlined in pale green silk, and the blue bows formed in the wide shaded ribbon.

This was made up over pale yellow satin and bordered with narrow frills of muslin edged with pale blue and yellow satin bebe ribbon. The frill must be gathered very full in the curves, so that they stand up well on the cloth. Having placed it on the center of the table, stand in each curve a white china or glass vase of slender form filled with yellow marguerites and forget-me-nots and a similar vase at each corner of the table, tied with a double bow of pale yellow and blue ribbon.

Piazza Furnishings.

While the cool shade of vines sounds well, the truth remains that if one is not especially interested in entomology the railings and posts of the piazza are better free from those insect harbors. There are several forms of screen curtains that are both cheap and tasteful, though Venetian blinds of proper size are usually preferred.

Opinions differ as to the floor covering. Some incline to matting, with leaded edges to keep it from curling, and small rugs; others to a large rug, so arranged that it can be turned back when the rains are heavy. Damascus mats of heavy straw come in the natural straw color, with conventional design in dark tones in the center.

It is a good idea to arrange the couch on the side next the house and have it in box form, so that on rainy days and at night any pillows or cushions that might be injured by dampness could be put into it.

Rattan or rush furniture is the most serviceable and attractive, but one can get on very well with any substantial, comfortable chairs and a steady table with a drawer that will hold writing material. Utilizing their knowledge of basketry as taught in many of the schools, some clever women have wound plain wooden chairs with green rushes, making a charming effect at slight expense.

For Insect Stings.

All sorts of stings, whether from wasps, bees, hornets or bumblebees, should be sucked to remove as much poison as possible. Then have a slice of acid fruit, apple, tomato or peach or a crushed berry or grape, either ripe or green, bound lightly to the wound. If the pain is very severe, after a minute take of the fruit, wash the sting in warm water and bathe it well in alcohol. Then wet a folded linen rag in either alcohol or vinegar and bind on the sting. If neither alcohol, vinegar nor fruit of any sort is at hand try a bruised plantain leaf. Change the application, whatever it is, every ten minutes until the pain subsides. Good Housekeeping.

Cold Cream.
Remove skin and bones from one can of salmon steak. Chop fine and add a tablespoonful of melted butter, a pinch of salt and white pepper, one-half cup of soft bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and three well-beaten eggs. Mix well and pack into six eight-cup measures. Set one in a pan of hot water and bake for half an hour. Turn out on hot plates and serve.

Varnish Kitchen Walls.

A sanitary, convenient and also cheap treatment of the ordinary wall paper is to give it a wash of thin varnish. This improves the color and makes any number of washings possible. Kitchen walls should always be done in colors and designs.

NEW RED CROSS MOVE

PLANNED BY MISS CLARA BARTON

How She Proposes to Believe Distress Without Waiting For Machinery to Be Set Up—Wants Her Scheme to Develop Into a Great National Movement.

Miss Clara Barton, founder and president of the Red Cross, who is visiting her native town, Oxford, Mass., has prepared an address to the American people in which she outlines a plan for the collection of a million dollar fund with which something permanent for the aid of humanity can be established at an untimely moment of the time when she must necessarily lay down her work, says the New York Times.

"I have," replied Representative

Sibley, "asked Representative Elect Dreher of Pennsylvania, how do you state of the men who write to a congressman suggesting ways for him to invest his money? I haven't taken my seat yet, but I'm overrunning with letters containing advice on that point from disinterested people with schemes to boost. I suppose that in the case of a representative of long experience like yourself it must be much worse, and I should think you'd adopt a formula for dealing with them," says the New York Times.

"I have," replied Representative Sibley promptly. "You're dead right about it. Here's the formula," and he hauled out a letter which he had just written, but had not yet mailed. It read as follows:

"Dear Sir—I thank your suggestion that I can make a great deal of money by investing in the Congressmen's Re-election Insurance company and thank you for the same. The fact is, however, that I now have so much money that the care of the same is a constant and increasing burden, and I am only considering ways of getting rid of it. For these reasons I do not accept your suggestions, but any advice on how to dispose of money will be thankfully received."

"I have," replied Representative Sibley promptly. "You're dead right about it. Here's the formula," and he hauled out a letter which he had just written, but had not yet mailed. It read as follows:

"Dear Sir—I thank your suggestion that I can make a great deal of money by investing in the Congressmen's Re-election Insurance company and thank you for the same. The fact is, however, that I now have so much money that the care of the same is a constant and increasing burden, and I am only considering ways of getting rid of it. For these reasons I do not accept your suggestions, but any advice on how to dispose of money will be thankfully received."

Chicago Aug. 13.—Express service in and out of Chicago may be stopped by a general strike of the employes in the offices and depot departments of the various companies having agencies in this city. The crisis is due to a refusal of the employers to grant the men a uniform wage scale and a nine hour day. Two Springfield horses, Joe Joker, owned by R. H. Braund, and Fabiola, owned by B. F. Wright, will race in this city Aug. 21, at the opening meeting of the Gentlemen's Driving club. A special race has been arranged for Fabiola, Joe Joker and Goldseeker, owned by William G. Benson. Goldseeker is the horse which nearly caused the disruption of the Springfield Driving club. T. W. Allen entered the horse in a race several weeks ago, and the horse was declared to be a "ringer."

GOLF CONTEST POSTPONED.

The handicap golf contest, which was scheduled for Thursday afternoon, was postponed owing to the rain and will be played this afternoon at the same time as the 1902 novice contest. Players who are eligible can have their single score counted in both contests. Several started to play yesterday afternoon, but as only a few handed in their scores and as there was a misunderstanding on the part of others as to the nature of the play it was decided to play this handicap to day. Those who played yesterday made very low scores and the best individual score was 45. The wet grounds naturally had something to do with the low scores, but nevertheless it shows that the members of the golf team are decidedly off in their game. Only a few weeks remain before the meeting of the Central Golf association in Springfield and it is hoped local players will make a good showing at this time.

NOT DEAD IN PHILIPPINES.

Mr. Sterling Message: Some time late in June an item was printed to the effect that Walter E. Curry, serving in the Philippines as a member of the Fifteenth cavalry, had been killed in battle. The information came in a roundabout way from Michael Curry, now living in Kansas, and was accepted as true by Mr. Curry's relatives here and in Schuyler county. It has developed, however, that this report was almost certainly an error. Yesterday his aunt, Mrs. James Curry, of this city, received a letter from him, mailed at Jalo, P. I., July 2, and written June 28. In this he states that he was well and did not expect to remain there longer than two months, when it was thought probable the regiment would return to the United States. He had been transferred from Troop H to the regimental band and was playing the cornet, and liked his new duties very well.

As Mrs. Curry's letter is dated subsequent to the publication of his reported death, it may be safely relied on, we think, that he is still living and that the story of his having been killed in battle is a mistake.

WANTED MASHED POTATOES.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Because six of its firemen are in jail in South Haven, Mich., charged with mutiny, the Marine Firemen's union has declared war upon the steamer Eastland, and says it shall not leave port until the men have been released.

The six firemen quit work to day while the boat was in the middle of Lake Michigan and refused to perform their duty because they were not served with mashed potatoes at dinner. Glenn Watson and Wm. Watson, who are charged by officers of the boat with being the ring leaders, were put in irons and their four companions driven below and kept prisoners until the boat reached South Haven, when they were all marched to jail.

THE HUMBERT TRIAL.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The Humbert trial continued to day. A number of provincial creditors of the Humbert family testified to loans of many millions francs. Among witnesses was a banker named Schotsmans, whose brother was mysteriously assassinated during the time of the Humbert complications. Madame Therese dramatically demanded of Schotsmans to exonerate her brother, Romain Durigneac, from suspicion of complicity in his brother's death. The witness answered that his brother did not know the Humberts. Madame Therese thereupon made a declamatory statement, saying that the mass of falsehood would disappear in a few hours when her disclosures were made.

THE DEATH RECORD.

DE SOUZA.

Joaquin De Souza died about 9 o'clock Thursday night at the family home, three miles northeast of the city. The deceased was about 65 years of age and had been a resident here for forty years. He was born in the Island of Madeira and came to this country early in life. Four sons and five daughters survive him, Manuel, John, Joseph and George De Souza; Mrs. Lula Vieira, Misses Annie, Samie, Christina and Julia. Mr. De Souza had been sick for nearly five years and his death was due to paralysis. He was a man who had the respect of all who knew him and his life was above reproach.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

CREATED SENSATION.

Witness Youtsey Makes Impor-

Caleb Powers.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 13.—Henry Youtsey, now serving a sentence for complicity in the Goebel murder, was the principal witness in the Caleb Powers trial to day. He testified that in January, 1901, he signed an affidavit for Powers as to his innocence to be used before the court of appeals to secure a reversal of Powers' life sentence. He said both Powers and himself knew the affidavit was false and that before he would consent to sign it he required Powers to sign an agreement waiving truth or falsity of the affidavit and also agreeing never to let it become public or use it openly in court and return it to him (Youtsey) within fifteen days. The affidavit was never returned and he kept the written agreement, which he to day produced in court. It bears Powers' signature and created a sensation in court. Youtsey's examination was not concluded when court adjourned.

JUDGE GRAY SORRY FOR MULES.

Birmingham, Aug. 13.—During the mine investigation the fact was developed that mine mules are kept at work nine hours without food. Judge Gray expressed his surprise and remarked that he presumed the mules had no union, hence they were forced to submit. Evidence to day had bearing on hours of work, thickness of coal seams, etc.

As Mrs. Curry's letter is dated subsequent to the publication of his reported death, it may be safely relied on, we think, that he is still living and that the story of his having been killed in battle is a mistake.
